

Equidistribution, periods, and subconvexity:

I will discuss how a general method for using equidistribution results to give upper bounds on periods of automorphic forms. I will then discuss some applications, time permitting: upper bounds for Fourier coefficients, subconvex bounds for certain L-functions, and equidistribution properties of Heegner points over totally real fields.