Speaker: Ulrich Derenthal

Title: Rational points on cubic surfaces

Abstract:

Cubic surfaces defined over the field of rational numbers often contain infinitely many rational points. A conjecture of Manin predicts the distribution of these points precisely. This talk will give an introduction to the universal torsor approach to this conjecture and report on current progress in the case of singular cubic surfaces.