

We describe results showing that pointwise gradient bounds via Riesz potentials - like those available for the linear Poisson equation - actually hold for p-Laplacian type equations as well.